Chancery Causes: Rebecca Clark vs. Robert Clark

Lee Co.

Reasor, Clarke

CH-Divorce

T-Vices

To the Honorable W. T. Miller, Judge of the Circuit Court of Lee County, Virginia:-

Humbly complaining, your oratrix, Rebecca Clark, nee Rebecca Reazor, wife of Robert Clark, would respectfully represent and shew unto your honor, that she was married to the said Robert Clark on the      day of September 1891, and is now      years of age. During all the time that she lived with her said husband she was unto him a good x wife, dutiful and obedient unto him in all of his lawful wishes, and in virtue remained his true wife, but notwithstanding the premises, her said husband willfully, lewdly and lasciviously and without her consent procurement or connivance, did unlawfully commit the heinous crime of adultery, and that against her earnest objections and protestations her said husband persisted in inviting and bringing to their house a lewd woman, especially at times when your oratrix was not at home, greatly to the shame of your oratrix and to her humility and unhappiness, and that because of such acts and relationships between the said Robert Clark and the said lewd woman your oratrix left her home and has endeavored to support herself by daily labor and has ever since lived separate and apart from her said husband and has not cohabited with him since said adulterous acts came to her knowledge.

Your oratrix would further represent and shew unto your honor that she is and has been for more than twelve months prior to the ~~institution~~ institution of this suit ~~been~~ a citizen of said county and state, and that the said adulterous acts here complained of occurred in less than five years preceeding this date.

In consideration whereof and in as much as your oratrix is remediless in the premises, ~~save~~ in your honors court of equity she prays ~~that~~ that the said Robert Clark be made the party defendant to this bill and required to answer the same, but not on oath that being waived, and that upon a final hearing the bonds of matrimony heretofore contracted and now existing between your oratrix and her said husband be dissolved and she granted a divorce from him a vinculo matrimonii, and that general relief be granted her and as in duty bound she will ever pray, etc.      May spa issue directed, &c.

The Deposition of Rebecca Clarke taken before me,
H.A. N. Skerr, Commissioner in Chancery for Wise County Circuit Court, at my dwelling house, Big Stone Gap, Wise County, Virginia, on the 21st day of October, 1896, to be read as evidence in the Chancery cause of Rebecca Clarke against Robert Clarke, pending in Lee County Circuit Court.

Rebecca Clarke, first being duly sworn, deposes as follows, to-wit-

Q + 21 State your age and residence - A a I am about 25 years old - My home is at Dryden but, temporarily at Big Stone Gap.
Q 22 State if you are the wife of Robert Clarke - A a I am -

Q 23 State whether or not he has deserted you and if he now provides for you - and if he does not provide for you, when did he quit providing for you (S) also state how he treated you while living with you (S) and also state whether he has kept the marriage vow (S) A. He ~~has~~ left me <sup>about 3</sup> - Three years ago - He does not provide for me now and never did, and while we lived together I had to work and make all we lived upon. While we lived together he would bring home with him gamblers for me to wait upon.
They would get drunk and continuously and sometimes make me give him my money which I had worked for, to buy liquor with and when I refused to give it to him he would often beat up my clothing. He was always fussing and beating me with his fists. When he was gone away from home he would come <sup>back</sup> ~~home~~ and ~~he would~~ tell me he had been with women who I know were lewd. He even brought to my house Laura Chandler, a bad woman, and kept her there all winter before we parted. If I would object to her being there he would beat me. They would stay there by themselves when I was off at work.
And further this deponent saith not.
